

Domestic Internships

Circumstances might prevent some students from relocating for an internship. Good opportunities are available in Provo and other nearby cities. Talk to friends, family, faculty, and advisors to find the best fit for you.

Once you have found a domestic internship, complete the following steps in order to receive academic credit for your experience.

No Events