

Mission Statement

The David M. Kennedy Center for International Studies is the heart of international engagement for the BYU community.

By supporting and implementing interdisciplinary international experiences on campus and abroad, the Kennedy Center raises global awareness and competency, and equips the community with international perspectives and tools to promote intellectual, physical, and spiritual well-being throughout the world.