

Brigham Young University's Center for the Study of Europe is pleased to announce the second annual session of this multidisciplinary conference for the examination and evaluation of the shifting shape and meaning of Europe. This year's conference will include the keynote speech, "European Nationalism and the Fight to Control the Past," by Patrick Geary, professor of medieval history at UCLA, forty presentations, fifty presenters, and other activities and excursions designed to further European studies and to make the conference more enjoyable.

Registration fees will be $20. To register go to <http://europe.byu.edu/rmesc>. Registration after Friday, 30 September 2005 will be considered late registration and registration fees will be $30. Graduate and undergraduate students may attend the conference at no charge; however, they are encouraged to pre-register to ensure space availability and if they want Saturday lunch. Students should be prepared to show student ID to check in.

Eligible BYU faculty and staff and their spouses may receive a university fee waiver for this conference. BYU Benefits Office will cover the registration fee as though auditing a 1 credit hour class. Direct questions to Conferences and Workshops at (801) 422-2568 or cw348@byu.edu.

KEY: CONF Conference Center; HRCB Herald R. Clark Building; SWKT Spencer W. Kimball Tower

FRIDAY, 7 OCTOBER

8:00 A.M.	Registration/Check-in CONF Check-in Counter
9:00 A.M.	Conference Welcome: Erlend Peterson, associate international vice president, BYU, CONF 2260 HELD IN CONF 2265 UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED	HELD IN CONF 2267 UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED
CULTURAL IMPRESSIONS: LITERATURE AND GENDER		CLASSICAL HERITAGE
9:30 A.M.	Italy-->Spain: Changing the Face of Europe Through Literature; Jaime Leanos, University of Nevada—Reno	Further Advances in Discovering the Past: BYU, Herculaneum, and the Apolline Project (Forum in CONF 2260 till 10:45); Roger Macfarlane, Brigham Young University; Girolamo F. de Simone, Suor Orsola Benincasa University, Naples
10:00 A.M.	Metaphorical Deportation in L'Evenement; Cathy Jellenik, University of Colorado—Boulder
10:30 A.M.	BREAK
CULTURAL IMPRESSIONS: LITERATURE AS SOCIAL CRITICISM		HISTORY OF THE IDEA OF EUROPE
10:50 A.M.	Karl Kraus, "Sprachkritik," and the Battle Against Fin-De-Siecle "B.S." in Austria and Germany; Jay Bodine, Colorado State University	Pierre Dubois: Harbinger of the European Community; Francis Hartigan, University of Nevada—Reno
11:20 A.M.	The Educational System as Depicted in Heinrich Boell's Novels: The One-Sided and Superficial Human Being in the Industrial-Bureaucratic Society; Eberhard Lehnardt, Utah Valley State College	The Cold War Years: An Epistolary Dialogue Between E.M Cioran and Constantin Noica; Aleksandra Gruzinska, Arizona State University
11:50 A.M.	Tour of BYU Campus SWKT Roof	Teaching About Europe (required for Elementary and Secondary Education teachers credit—lunch will be provided); Cory Leonard, Brigham Young University; HRCB 238
12:30 P.M.	LUNCH On Your Own
CULTURAL IMPRESSIONS: LANGUAGE AND PERCEPTIONS
1:30 P.M.	Charming Words: A Modern Linguistic View of Medieval Magic; Janette MacDonald, University of Colorado—Denver/University of Denver	Origins and Evolution of the European Union: Putting EU History Into EU Studies (Forum in CONF 2260 till 2:45); David Messenger, Carroll College; Craig Parsons, University of Oregon
2:00 P.M.	"Their wits be not their owne": Faith and Parody in The Faerie Queene—Book 1; Joseph Parry, Brigham Young University
2:30 P.M.	BREAK
IDENTITIES: CONFRONTING STEREOTYPES, PERCEPTIONS, AND INFLUENCES		IDENTITIES: INFLUENCES ON CULTURAL MEMORY AND LANDSCAPE
2:50 P.M.	The Emperor's New Europe: The Eastern European Search For Identity and Agency in a Contested Region; Eva Hudecova, University of Minnesota	Shifting Ethnic Identities: A Statistical Analysis of Religion and Language Regions in the Upper Carpathian Basin (1910–1921); Samuel Otterstrom, Brigham Young University
3:20 P.M.	Cultural Stereotypes: From Dracula's Myth to Romanian Diaspora; Ileana Popa, Virginia Commonwealth University	Recovering the "Hidden Past": Historical Memory and the Meaning of Civil War, Social Revolution, and Franquismo in Present-Day Catalonia; Robert Bello, University of New Mexico
3:50 P.M.	BREAK
4:00 P.M.	Is There a New Europe? Cioran's Perspective of European History; Anca Sprenger, Brigham Young University	The Changing Face of European Alpine Settlements: The Impact of Tourism on Local Ecologies and Societies; Julie Hartley, Brigham Young University

SATURDAY, 8 OCTOBER

9:00 A.M.	Registration/Check-in CONF Check-in Counter HELD IN CONF 2265 UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED	HELD IN CONF 2267 UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED
IMMIGRATION: ASSIMILATION, CULTURAL PRESERVATION, AND GOVERNMENT POLICIES		RELIGION AND FAITH: CHRISTIANITY'S EVOLUTION AND INFLUENCE IN MODERN EUROPE
9:30 A.M.	The West European Policy Response to Asylum Seekers: 1999–2004; Rebecca Larsen, Brigham Young University	Religion and War in Europe: A Millennialist Perspective; Charles Connell, Northern Arizona University
10:00 A.M.	North African Immigrant Associations in France: New Considerations; Victoria Phaneuf, University of Arizona	Defiance: Re-evaluating the Significance of Perpetua's Martyrdom; Matthew Recla, Boise State University
10:30 A.M.	BREAK
10:45 A.M.	On Doit Survivre: The Economic and Social Roles of the Rotating Savings and Credit Association for Cameroonian Women in France; Abigail Dumes, Yale University	Evolving Roles for Saint Brigid and Implications for Women in the Celtic Church; Joshua Haskett, Boise State University
NATIONALISM: EUROPEAN INTEGRATION AND MINORITY MOVEMENTS
11:15 A.M.	The Divided States of Europe: Collective Ideas, Nationalism, and the Future of European Integration; Duane Adamson, Brigham Young University	Changing Understandings and Interpretations of European Christianity; Lisa McClain, Boise State University
11:45 A.M.	LUNCH CONF Patio (CONF 2260 if inclement weather)
12:20 P.M.	KEYNOTE ADDRESS: EUROPEAN NATIONALISM AND THE FIGHT TO CONTROL THE PAST; PATRICK GEARY, UCLA; CONF 2260
EXPANSION: TRANSITIONS IN THE BALKANS, EASTERN EUROPE, AND TURKEY		TEACHING EUROPE: CREATING INTERNSHIPS, ADDRESSING LANGUAGE NEEDS, AND TRAVEL STUDIES
1:30 P.M.	The Balkan Nations and the European Union; Arthur Dolsen, Idaho State University	Establishing, Mentoring, and Supervising Student Internships in Europe from the U.S.: An Assessment of What Works and What Doesn't; Danny Damron, Brigham Young University
2:00 P.M.	Serbia, Montenegro, and Kosovo: Secession and Independence, Autonomy and Decentralization, Federation or Another Alternative; Steve Mazurana, University of Northern Colorado	Addressing Critical Language Needs: Connecting to Europe Today and Tomorrow (Forum in CONF 2260 till 3:15); Michael Bush, Kirk Belnap, Margaret Merrill, Brigham Young University
2:30 P.M.	Technocracy Challenged: UNMIK's Failed Privatization Policies in Kosovo, 2003–04; John Gould, Colorado College
3:00 P.M.	BREAK
3:20 P.M.	Slovakia's Spectacular Surge: Economic Effects of the Republic's New System; Phillip Bryson, Brigham Young University	Innovations in European Travel Studies: Creating Effective Programs for Student Education and Faculty Development; Jerry Hansen Jr., Brigham Young University—Idaho
CONTEMPORARY CONCERNS: EU CONSTITUTION
3:50 P.M.	Europeanization as a Modernizing Factor of Post-Communist Romania; Gabriel Lataianu, Bureau for Social Research, Bucharest, Romania	The Potential Failure of the European Constitution: Pusillanimity Among Europe's Elites; Michael McNeal, University of Denver
4:20 P.M.	Europeanization of Islamic Movements in Turkey; Hakan Yavuz, University of Utah	France: A Crisis of National Identity?; Patricia Frederick, Northern Arizona University
4:50 P.M.	RMESC Conference Group Discussion CONF 2260
5:30 P.M.	Conference Ends—Please turn in your conference evaluation at the Check-In Counter	