Paul D. Williams is an associate professor of international affairs at George Washington University. Williams’ areas of expertise are international peace operations, warfare in Africa, Africa’s international relations, and conflict resolution. His publications include War and Conflict in Africa (2nd edition, 2016) and the Oxford Handbook of United Nations Peacekeeping Operations (with Joachim Koops, Norrie MacQueen, and Thierry Tardy (2015).