In January 2018, BYU’s London Centre program is expanding its horizons! What could be better than spending 6 weeks living and learning in the legendary London Centre? Adding 3 weeks in Paris and 3 weeks in Rome! Like the famed Grand Tour of the past, this unique study abroad opportunity will—for the first time—make study in 3 of the most culturally rich centers in the world part of the traditional London Centre program. This program is open to all students wishing to enhance their undergraduate experience by fulfilling GE requirements in Italy, France, and Great Britain. Students will benefit from 5 BYU professors with different specialties and interests who are committed to creating a full and rewarding experience. We will study history and literature in London, music in Paris, and art and architecture in Rome. We will travel to Edinburgh, Normandy, Florence, and a number of other cities as well. This is an opportunity that will open your eyes and change your life. Join us as we undertake this adventure!

DATES
20 January–14 April 2018

HOUSING
While in London, students and faculty live at the BYU London Centre, comprising adjoining Victorian townhouses in west-central London (near Kensington Gardens and Hyde Park, with easy access to the Tube). Students receive breakfast and dinner Sunday through Friday. The London Centre has free laundry facilities and a library. On the Continent students will live together in dormitories centrally located in Paris and Rome. All locations will offer Wi-Fi access.

COURSES
All participants will be required to register as full-time students in all of the courses listed below. However, students may petition to receive alternate credit if these courses have already been completed.

COST

$9,400–9,999

The estimated cost of this program includes LDS undergraduate, full-time BYU tuition (increased cost for graduate and non-LDS students), housing, some cultural/historical sites and other admissions, group transportation on field trips, and international health insurance coverage. Breakfast and dinners, from Sunday through Friday, are included in London only. This cost does not include airfare to the student's starting city (London, Paris, or Rome), meals in Paris and Rome and on field trips, Saturday meals in London, lunches, personal expenses, or passports.

PREPARATION

All students who are accepted into the program must register for a 1 credit, pre-departure preparation class held on Thursdays from 5-7pm during the second block of fall 2017 semester (part-time BYU and non-BYU students will need to pay an additional tuition fee of approximately $250 for this course). Students are also encouraged to participate in ORCA or MEG grant projects at BYU during the 2017-2018 school year.

FUNDING SOURCES

Regular BYU tuition scholarships, Pell Grants, and Federal Insured Student Loans may be applied to study abroad programs. Students who submit the financial aid section of the ISP application and who have a current FAFSA form on file at the Financial Aid Office (A-41 ASB) will be considered for a Study Abroad scholarship. Academic departments and colleges may assist with scholarships and grants. Private grants and scholarships outside of BYU may also assist (kennedy.byu.edu/student/scholarships).

APPLICATION PROCESS

Complete the online application at kennedy.byu.edu/apply. Early applications are encouraged. The program directors will be in contact as soon as the application has been completed and schedule an interview. Students will be notified via e-mail of their acceptance into the program.

Deadline: 17 October 2017

FACULTY

Jamie Horrocks is an associate professor of English. Her research focuses on Victorian literature and visual culture. She teaches courses on nineteenth-century British literature, literary theory, and literature by women. Professor Horrocks will be the co-director of the London Centre.

Luke Howard teaches History of Civilization and music history courses in the BYU School of Music. His research focuses on appropriations of classical music in popular culture, and reception histories of well-known works from the classical canon. Professor Howard is a former co-director of the London Centre and will be the director in Paris.

Matthew Mason is an associate professor of history. He teaches a range of classes in American and British history. His research is on slavery and politics, and his current book project is an analysis of the Anglo-American politics of slavery from the American Revolution through the late nineteenth century. He was faculty at the London Centre in 2012. Professor Mason will be the co-director of the London Centre.

James Swensen is an associate professor of art history and the history of photography. His research interests include documentary photography and the imagery of the American West and the Grand Tour in Italy. He has co-directed four study abroad programs to Europe and Italy. Professor Swensen will be the director in Rome.

Dave Kirkham is the resident Academic Director of the London Centre. He is also a Senior Fellow at the BYU Law School and a BYU associate professor of Political Science whose courses and research focus on international human rights and constitutional studies, with an emphasis on freedom of conscience and religion.

SCHEDULE AND TIME COMMITMENT

Students may not arrive late or leave early from the program. Family members and friends are not allowed to visit students during the program. They may join students after the last day of the program.
