

GLOBAL LAW SEMINAR: GENEVA

EXTERNSHIP FALL 2023

Learn law in Geneva! Take courses in international and comparative law while participating in an exciting externship with providers such as the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, the U.N. High Commissioner for Human Rights, the U.S. State Department in Geneva, and other international organizations. As a primary hub of public international law, Geneva is the epicenter for developments in international trade law and human rights jurisprudence. Experience a semester learning law, while applying the principles each day as you participate in your externship.

DATES

30 August–8 December 2023

(Dates are tentative, official dates TBA)

HOUSING

Students will live in a furnished apartment located in the Church-owned International Government Relations Offices Site in Geneva. Students are responsible for providing their own meals. In some cases, the program housing may not accommodate married couples. In these cases, students will need to find a suitable alternative.

COURSES

Students will spend thirty hours per week working at their externship (for 9 credit hours) and then will take two 3-credit classes to be taught by distance learning, such as:

LAW 602—Administrative Law

LAW 659—Public International Law

Participants may not take any other courses on this program, including BYU Online courses, without approval by the program directors and ISP.
