

Asian FLAS Course Offerings for Malay

The US Department of Education provides some flexibility in determining which courses fulfill the language and area studies courses. Brigham Young University provides robust curricular offerings that fulfill these requirements. In order to assist students in making course selections, the FLAS committee has created a list of pre-approved and potential courses that fulfill FLAS requirements.

Pre-Approved Language Courses

The following courses satisfy the requirements for language:

MALAY 201	Second-Year Malay
MALAY 202	Second-Year Malay
MALAY 305	Lang Skills Dev: Malay
MALAY 321	Adv Grammar: Malay
MALAY 330	Adv Lang & Cult: Malay
MALAY 340	Intro to Literature: Malay
MALAY 350	Adv Lang Study: Malay

Course offerings differ each semester.

Pre-Approved Area Studies Courses

The following courses satisfy the requirements for area studies courses. Students will attempt to take Southeast Asian courses before falling back on others.

ANTHR 341	Ethnonationalism and SE Asia
ANTHR 541	Southeast Asia Seminar
ARTHC 203	Asian Art Survey
ASIAN 200	Intr Asian Studies
ASIAN 342	Asian Lit Trads
CMLIT 342	Asian Lit Traditns
CMLIT 450R	Asian Lit Traditns
GEOG 272	East Asia
GEOG 273	Southeast Asia
HIST 231	Intro to East Asian History
HIST 340	Traditional China
HIST 342	The Mongol Empire
HIST 348	Modern Southeast Asia
HIST 349	Asian Religion & Thought
IHUM 241	Humanities of East Asia
IHUM 243	Humanities of South Asia
POLI 346	Southeast Asian Politics
POLI 348	Government & Politics of Asia
POLI 385	Intrntl Relations of Asia

Course offerings differ each semester.

Course Substitutions

Do your best to arrange your schedule to take courses listed above. Nevertheless, course substitutions may be made due to schedule conflicts or lack of course offerings. You must submit a formal course substitution request in the form of a memo. Your request must be approved in writing by the FLAS program coordinator, the FLAS selection committee chair, and the coordinator of Asian Studies.

Include the following in your substitution request:

- the course you wish to take
- a justification for the substitution
- a copy of the syllabus
- a letter of support from the professor

Note: Students in the Law School may potentially count one law class as an area studies course, but they must follow the process outlined above.