

Asian FLAS Course Offerings for Hmong

The US Department of Education provides some flexibility in determining which courses fulfill the language and area studies courses. Brigham Young University provides robust curricular offerings that fulfill these requirements. In order to assist students in making course selections, the FLAS committee has created a list of pre-approved and potential courses that fulfill FLAS requirements.

Pre-Approved Language Courses

The following courses satisfy the requirements for language:

HMONG 201 Second-Year Hmong
HMONG 202 Second-Year Hmong
HMONG 305 Lang Skills Dev: Hmong
HMONG 321 Adv Grammar: Hmong
HMONG 330 Adv Lang & Cult: Hmong
HMONG 340 Intro to Literature: Hmong
HMONG 350 Adv Lang Study: Hmong

**Course offerings differ each semester.

Pre-Approved Area Studies Courses

The following courses satisfy the requirements for area studies courses. **Students will attempt to take Southeast Asian courses before falling back on others.**

ANTHR 327 The Hmong Diaspora
ANTHR 341 Ethnonationalism and SE Asia
ANTHR 541 Southeast Asia Seminar
ARTHC 203 Asian Art Survey
ASIAN 200 Intr Asian Studies
ASIAN 342 Asian Lit Trads
CMLIT 342 Asian Lit Traditns
CMLIT 450R Asian Lit Traditns
GEOG 272 East Asia
GEOG 273 Southeast Asia
HIST 231 Intro to East Asian History
HIST 340 Traditional China
HIST 342 The Mongol Empire
HIST 348 Modern Southeast Asia
HIST 349 Asian Religion & Thought
IHUM 241 Humanities of East Asia
IHUM 243 Humanities of South Asia
POLI 346 Southeast Asian Politics
POLI 348 Government & Politics of Asia
POLI 385 Intrntl Relations of Asia

**Course offerings differ each semester.

Course Substitutions

Do your best to arrange your schedule to take courses listed above. Nevertheless, course substitutions may be made due to schedule conflicts or lack of course offerings. You must submit a formal course substitution request in the form of a memo. Your request must be approved in writing by the FLAS program coordinator, the FLAS selection committee chair, and the coordinator of Asian Studies.

Include the following in your substitution request:

- the course you wish to take
- a justification for the substitution
- a copy of the syllabus
- a letter of support from the professor

Note: Students in the Law School may potentially count one law class as an area studies course, but they must follow the process outlined above.