Leiden, the Netherlands
Students will live in Leiden, the Netherlands choosing either Spring Term from May-June 2024 or Fall Semester Sept-October (for 8 weeks) 2024. While there, students will focus on databasing dragonflies and label data for a larger project funded by the National Science Foundation. The internship is a Naturalis Biodiversity Center (naturalis.nl/en). The goal is to produce wing morphology data to explore the evolution of flight strategies over the evolutionary history of dragonflies (insect order Odonata).

DATES
Spring 2024: Approximately 8 weeks during Spring term 2024
Fall 2024: Approximately 8 weeks during Fall semester 2024

HOUSING
Housing will be in local apartments in Leiden. Dr. Bybee will give recommendations and advice regarding housing arrangements.

COURSES
Students are required to enroll in a minimum of 6 credit hours during the spring term or a minimum of 12 credit hours during the fall semester. Students may choose from the following courses:

BIO 399R—Internship or other directed readings/research credit.
BIO 494R—Biology Research

Students may also take other courses as arranged by their faculty director. Students may also be interested in investigating the local culture by taking IAS 380 Cultural Proofs for 1–3 credit hours. This self-guided course allows students to do independent intercultural research, interview locals, and experience local culture.
Participants may not take any other courses on this program, including BYU Online courses, without approval by the program director and ISP.

COST

Students will pay BYU Latter-day Saints undergraduate tuition for 6 credits for Spring Term ($1624) or 12 credits for Fall Semester ($3248). The tuition covers the cost of internship placement, housing, and international health insurance coverage. Does not include international airfare, meals, local transportation, international cell phone/data plan, visa, or personal expenses.

TRAVEL

Students are responsible for purchasing their own airfare to and from the program sites. Airfare reservations must be made through BYU Travel. Students should contact a BYU Travel agent.

PREPARATION

Accepted students are required to participate in preparation meetings with Dr. Bybee and ISP representatives prior to departure.

Accompanying spouses need to be credit-bearing participants on the program, meaning they will also need to apply online and participate in preparation meetings.

Students must meet all country- and program-specific COVID and health requirements for travel.

FUNDING SOURCES

Regular BYU tuition scholarships, Pell Grants, and Federal Insured Student Loans may be applied to international programs. Students who submit the financial aid section of the ISP application and who have a current FAFSA form on file at the Financial Aid Office (A-41 ASB) will be considered for a Study Abroad scholarship.

Academic departments and colleges may assist with scholarships and grants. Private grants and scholarships outside of BYU may also assist (see kennedy.byu.edu/scholarships).

Biology Department scholarships may be available to Biology majors. The Biology Department has National Science Foundation grants available to qualified students. Contact Dr. Seth Bybee for details.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Students must be adults 18 years of age or older to participate. Complete the online application at kennedy.byu.edu/isp-apply. A nonrefundable $35 application fee is required; applicants will be interviewed once the application is complete. Students will be notified via e-mail of their acceptance into the program. The first payment is due upon acceptance.

Spring 2024 Application Deadline: 15 October 2023

Fall 2024 Application Deadline: 1 November 2023

FACULTY DIRECTOR

Seth Bybee, professor of biology in the Biology Department, is the faculty director of the program.
