STUDY ABROAD SPRING 2027

This program is an opportunity for students to learn about global finance by studying the European Union and the euro currency in some depth. We will visit the European Central Bank, the European Parliament and several relevant museums. We will learn about how euros trade, how exchange rates are set, and how European policies are determined. Students will also have opportunities to visit a few companies and to see culturally significant sites.

PREPARATION
Accepted students are expected to participate in an international, cross-cultural preparation course (IAS 201R, 1 credit hour). This evening class will be held on Thursdays from 5:00 to 6:50 PM during the second block of winter semester 2027. Part-time BYU students and non-BYU students will need to pay an additional tuition fee for enrolling in this prep class.

International study programs are physically, emotionally, and mentally demanding, so you must be in good health to participate. These programs often take place in locations that do not have the same level of safety and services in terms of transportation, living conditions, residential accommodations, food, public behavior, and policing that you may be used to on campus. If you have further questions or concerns on this, please see https://kennedy.byu.edu/isp-travel-policy.

FUNDING SOURCES
Regular BYU tuition scholarships, Pell Grants, and Federal Insured Student Loans may be applied to Study Abroad programs. Students who submit the financial aid section of the ISP application, and who have a current FAFSA form on file at the Financial Aid Office (A-41 ASB) will be considered for a Study Abroad scholarship. Academic departments and colleges may assist with scholarships and grants. Private grants and scholarships outside of BYU may also assist (see kennedy.byu.edu/isp/financial-aid/). Scholarships are not applied until the last payment is due.

APPLICATION PROCESS
Students must be 18 years of age or older to participate. Complete the online application at kennedy.byu.edu/apply. A nonrefundable $35 application fee is required.
