

Approved for Adoption

Dirs. Laurent Boileau & Jung, 2012. French/Korean. 70 min.

Animated documentary that explores the childhood of filmmaker Jung Henin, one of the many Korean children adopted by foreign families at the end of the Korean War. The film's animation is interspersed with archival footage and home movies.

View online at hummedia.byu.edu. To gain access to this movie, faculty and students should go to ic.byu.edu. The film will be available to watch anytime from Wednesday to Saturday.

Kennedy Center

Kennedy Center for International Studies

<https://kennedy.byu.edu>
