

Kennedy Scholars Deadline

Each year a fortunate group of students receive the distinction of becoming Kennedy Scholars, named in honor of the center's namesake David M. Kennedy, who exemplified all things international in his business career and in his service to the Church.

Applications for the annual Kennedy Scholar awards are due each spring for the following academic year.

Application Deadline

15 June

The Kennedy Scholar application can be filled out online through the following link:

Before going to the link, we encourage students to prepare answers to the questions below, to be ready to cut and paste into the online application. Please be aware each question has a 3,000-character maximum allowance (300–500 words).

1. The Kennedy Center encourages students to be actively engaged in their education through a variety of experiences. Please list all the specific ways you have been or are currently involved. (This could include but is not limited to majors/minors, clubs, study abroad, internships, research opportunities, volunteer service, other international experiences, community involvement, leadership roles, etc.)
2. Of the above experiences, pick one or two that have been most meaningful to you and explain why.
3. Briefly explain how your overall involvement with the Kennedy Center has changed you personally.
4. The Kennedy Center strives to equip students with international perspectives and tools to promote intellectual, physical, and spiritual well-being throughout the world. Tell us about your future plans and how they specifically embody this vision.
