

Experiential Learning

exl.byu.edu/

Experiential learning grants are managed by each academic college, with most colleges allowing experiential learning money to be applied to an international educational experience. Contact your dean's office to learn when and how students can get involved.