

Leanna Escobar is an international education consultant at Utah Valley University. Escobar received an MS in international policy and management from Kennesaw State University. BA, international studies, Latin American studies, 2005