

Wanderlust for London

I'm Cassandra Larimer, a sophomore chemical engineering major. I attended the Spring 2018 London Centre study abroad. I decided to attend this program after taking AP European History in high school and discovering my passion for British history, literature, film and art. The weekend trips to Scotland and France along the way were just icing on the cake. I wouldn't trade my study abroad experience for anything. More...