

INTERNATIONAL
FIELD STUDIES
LECTURE SERIES

RESPONSIBLE SERVICE: HOLDING BABIES AND SO MUCH MORE, OR LOVE IS HARDER WORK THAN I THOUGHT

AMY DAWSON

Executive assistant, Orphanage Support Services Organization

FRIDAY, 19 NOVEMBER

1:00 P.M.

238 HRCB

Amy Dawson now works for Orphanage Support Services Organization, where she had volunteered from January to June 2000. Dawson enjoys incorporating cross-cultural principles with communication, office tasks, and, yes, holding babies. She served an LDS mission in Sacramento, CA, served an internship in a Romanian orphanage, worked as the Romania International Internship facilitator at BYU (2005–07), and completed a field study in Guatemala. Dawson is a native of Clinton, UT and received BA in international studies with an emphasis international development and with minors in Latin American studies and child development.

204D HRCB | byu.fieldstudy@gmail.com | kennedy.byu.edu/isp

