Kris Tina Carlston

Prelaw Advisor, Brigham Young University

Kris Tina Carlston serves as the prelaw director at Brigham Young University. While she loves working with students, Carlston continues to practice law focusing on estate planning. Prior to coming to BYU, she worked as a law associate at a large firm in Chicago, where her focus was on corporate tax law, §1031 land exchanges, and nonprofit organizations. Carlston received a BS in biology and chemistry and an MBA from Utah State University and a JD from Brigham Young University.

McKenzie Lawyer Davies

Career Counselor, Brigham Young University

McKenzie Lawyer Davies is a career counselor with University

Career Services at BYU, where she enjoys counseling students on careers and graduate school, planning the university-wide Career Fair, and visiting with employer representatives from across the country. Davies' experience ranges from the U.S. Senate and Government Accountability Office to nonprofit work and local government experience in Washington, D.C. She received a BA in Spanish and political science and an MPA from Brigham Young University.

Lecture will be followed by a Q&A session that will conclude at 5:30 P.M.
