Nicholas Dujmovic

CIA HISTORIAN

Nicholas Dujmovic has been a member of the CIA History Staff since 2005. Dujmovic joined CIA in 1990 as an analyst on the USSR and East Europe, and later was a speechwriter for the director of Central Intelligence, editor of the President's Daily Brief, and a manager of analysts. Most of his work is classified, but his unclassified work on agency operations and culture has appeared in intelligence anthologies as well as in the journals Studies in Intelligence and Intelligence and National Security. In 2004, Yale University published his collection of quotations on intelligence and espionage, The Literary Spy. He is currently at work on a project dealing with U.S. intelligence and the 1982 Falklands War. Dujmovic graduated from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in 1980 and spent a decade as a commissioned officer, serving in various ships and teaching national security policy and history at the academy. He received a PhD from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University in 1996.
