

Minor Differences: Europe between Freud and Lucan

Rudi Visker

Professor of contemporary philosophy,
Katholieke Universiteit Leuven (Catholic University), Belgium

Monday, 11 April
NOON
238 HRCB

Rudi Visker's research interests are ethical engagement, human longing, and French phenomenology and psychoanalysis. Visker is the editor of Tijdschrift voor filosofie, the premier Dutch-language journal of philosophy, published in Dutch, English, and German. He has written Michel Foucault: Genealogy as Critique; Truth and Singularity: Taking Foucault into Phenomenology; and the Inhuman Condition: Looking for Difference after Levinas and Heidegger. He is currently writing Is There Death After Life?

