

Ambassadorial Insights
Winter 2007

Malta–U.S. Relations

His Excellency

John Lowell

Maltese ambassador to the U.S.

Thursday, 8 February
2:00 P.M.
238 HRCB

His Excellency John Lowell received his current appointment in 2003 after having been a nonresident ambassador to Croatia (2000–03) and to Bulgaria, Romania, and Bosnia-Herzegovina (1999–2003). Lowell, who has been chairman of the Manoel Theatre Committee at the National Theatre in Malta since 1993, was the main shareholder and managing director of the Ells Ltd. Malta from 1967 to 1997, where he owned and managed various subsidiary companies in the fields of property development, travel, catering, import/export and duty-free management. In addition, from 1952 to 1966, Lowell worked for Barclays Bank DCO. He studied at St. Aloysius College in Malta and is married with three children.