

How and Why to Think about Graduate School: Insights from an “Expert”

Curtis Child

Doctoral candidate in sociology, Indiana University—Bloomington

Friday, 30 November
NOON
238 HRCB

Curtis Child is interested in political, organizational, and economic sociology, and his research examines the intersections of charity practice and the marketplace. Child participated in two international field study projects as an undergraduate—one to Fiji, the other to South Africa and Zimbabwe. He received a BS in sociology from BYU (2002) and a master's degree in public affairs with an emphasis in nonprofit management from Indiana University—Bloomington.

For more information on International Field Studies, please visit the International Study Programs web site at <http://kennedy.byu.edu/isp>. For archives, see http://kennedy.byu.edu/events/lecture\_archives.php