

Global Awareness Lecture
Fall 2008

Please Don't Tell this Story: LDS Humanitarian Work and the Media

Sharon Eubank

Manager, LDS Humanitarian Services

Wednesday, 3 December
NOON
238 HRCB

Sharon Eubank was hired by the LDS Welfare department in 1988 to help church members find resources to start businesses. Eubank helped establish international employment offices and create a training workshop for entrepreneurs. She currently manages the LDS Humanitarian wheelchair program and supervises humanitarian couples and projects in the Middle East Africa North area. Previously, she had owned an educational toy store in Provo, where she says she spent many Christmas Eve's consulting with Santa on the hottest new toys! She was a legislative aid for senators Alan Simpson (R-WY) and Jake Garn (R-UT) in Washington, D.C., until Garn's retirement. Following a Finnish mission and a degree in English from BYU—Provo, Eubank taught English to Japanese junior high students in Suzuka, Japan.