Tim Sheehan will provide an overview of his position as vice president of government and community relations at Salt Lake Community College. Sheehan will describe his career path, provide career advice, and discuss life lessons.

As vice president, he provides leadership and executive direction for SLCC and cultivates relationships with federal, state, local, and community leaders. Prior to joining the college in 2010, Sheehan served as the state director to U.S. Senator Bob Bennett for more than nine years.

Lecture will be followed by a Q&A session.
