His Excellency
Martín Lousteau

ARGENTINE AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S.

With a mutual goal to strengthen bilateral relations, Argentina and the U.S. have a robust trade agreement, belong to the same international organizations, and have a shared interest in national and international security goals. Join us for this firsthand report on this partnership.

His Excellency Martín Lousteau was appointed ambassador in January 2016. Lousteau previously served as an MP representing Buenos Aires, as minister of economy and production of Argentina, and as minister of production in the Province of Buenos Aires. In earlier years, he ran his own economic and political consultancy firm and was a columnist for “La Nación” newspaper, a regular guest on TV and radio shows, and the author of four books, including the bestseller Economía 3D. Lousteau received an economics degree cum laude from the University of San Andrés and an MSc in economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science.
