Mike Dutton will provide an overview of his current position at Builders Fund. Dutton will describe his career path, provide career advice, and discuss life lessons.

He is the managing partner and co-founder of Builders Fund, a growth stage private equity fund investing around themes of sustainable food and agriculture, health and wellness, human elevation, and resource efficiency. In addition, Dutton is the managing partner of Dolphin Capital Group, a growth equity fund that invests in lower, middle-market companies in the Intermountain West region. He and his wife Jennifer are the parents of three children.

Lecture will be followed by a Q&A session.
