

Justice, Wealth, and Taxes

A View from the Perspective of Rabbinic Judaism

THU | 18 OCT 2018
11 AM
238 HRCB

Aryeh Cohen teaches all things Rabbinic literature (Mishnah, Talmud, midrash) and social justice at the Ziegler School for Rabbinic Studies of the American Jewish University, where he was ordained a rabbi in 2010. Cohen is a professor, a social justice activist, a rabbi, and a lecturer. In addition, he is the author of Justice in the City: An Argument from the Sources of Rabbinic Judaism. Also Cohen is the Rabbi-in-Residence for Bend the Arc: A Jewish Partnership for Justice in Southern California, a founder and member of the Shtibl Minyan, and a board member of CLUE.