

KENNEDY RESEARCH FELLOW AWARDS

WED | 12 DEC 2018
NOON
238 HRCB

Join us to celebrate the fall award winners representing some of the most impressive internationally oriented research by BYU students.

Free JDawgs for the first 75 attendees!

“A War on the Poor? A Geostatistical Analysis of Drug Suspect Killings in Metro Manila, Philippines”

Brian Allen
(public health: epidemiology major and international development minor)

“Roots of Environmental Magic: The Tactile Voodoo of Antebellum Plantation Landscapes in Charles Chesnut’s ‘The Conjure Woman’”

Maren Loveland
(American studies major and global women’s studies minor)

“Community-Based Solutions to the Rebel’s Dilemma in Nonviolent Resistance: A Case Study of the Norwegian Teacher’s Resistance”

Alexis Garretson
(biology graduate student)

