for the Department of State?

Do you or your spouse worry about the implications of Foreign Service life for your family? How do Foreign Service kids adjust to moving to a new country every few years? Will the world travel make them smarter and more cosmopolitan, or will they miss having a home town and long-term friendships? The FSSO will host a panel of BYU students whose grew up in Foreign Service families to answer these and any other questions you have. Bring your loved ones who may also have concerns/questions.
