

Ask Me Anything

About Intelligence Careers

TUE | 21 JUL 2020
11 AM

Mark Thomas spent most of his Air Force career as an intelligence analyst, operations support officer, and international affairs officer, recently retiring from a 38-year career in the Air Force and Intelligence Community. During his career with the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) he was NGA's liaison to NATO Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe, the U.S. Northern Command, and U.S. Air Forces in Europe and Africa. He was also a policy, international affairs, and technology officer. He received degrees from Whitman College and the National Intelligence University and was a National Security Fellow at the Harvard Kennedy School.

Zoom registration: <https://tinyurl.com/y7frbj3>

